

Peter DAHLMANN

Steel Institute VDEh, Düsseldorf,
Germany

A detailed report about the European steel production is given for the years 2012/2013. Special focus is laid on steel production in Germany. The paper highlights figures about crude steel production, raw materials supply, continuous casting and environmental performance parameters. During the past 30 years, the German steel industry made considerable progress regarding process efficiency. Therefore, key indicators like total output, energy consumption and CO₂ mitigation are sketched.

Co-authors: Reinhard Fandrich, Hans Bodo Lungen